OSI Europe Celebrates World Environment Day (WED)

Gersthofen, Germany, June 6, 2016 – OSI Europe was delighted to participate for the fifth time in the United Nations' World Environment Day, held every year on June 5th..

The WED theme for 2016 was "Go Wild for Life." This encourages people to celebrate all those species under threat and to take action of our own to help safeguard them for future generations. This can be about animals or plants that are threatened within our local areas as well as at the national or global level - many local extinctions will eventually add up to a global extinction!

WED is celebrated around the world in many ways, including street rallies, bicycle parades, concerts, school competitions, tree planting, recycling efforts, clean-up campaigns and much more. A number of our plants in Europe took part by holding a range of campaigns designed to raise awareness on this important topic. These included employee presentations in the canteen areas and distributing leaflets to provide information. Our other initiatives included:

- A childrens drawing competition called 'The Wild Things' in OSI Hungary
- A childrens competition to decorate breeding boxes for birds in OSI Poland
- A childrens activity to create endangered animal masks in OSI Spain
- An employee 'Go Wild for Life' photo competition in OSI UK
