OSI Food Solutions UK Receives 2017 International Safety Award

Food processing plant accepts prestigious award for 11th time

Aurora, IL, USA, May 18, 2017 – OSI Food Solutions UK received a 2017 International Safety Award from the British Safety Council on May 5, 2017 at the Council's 60th Anniversary and International Safety Awards Gala Dinner held at Grosvenor House Hotel in London.

The British Safety Council's International Safety Award recognizes a company's commitment to good health and safety management in the workplace and more than 500 entries are received every year. These entries are adjudicated by an independent panel of chartered health and safety professionals.

This same award has been bestowed upon OSI Food Solutions UK many times since 2006, making 2017 the eleventh time the facility has been recognized by the British Safety Council for excellence in health and safety management.

"Once again, we were able to demonstrate OSI's commitment to high standards for health and safety and earn this award," said Ian Hurley, OSI's safety, security and environmental manager. "We highly value our workforce and work diligently to ensure our workers and workplaces are safe."

OSI Food Solutions UK has been producing quality food items for the restaurant industry since 1988.
